

THE TURTLE OLYMPIAD

SAMPLE QUESTION PAPER

1. Which of the GVV's were portrayed by Jobs in his task of bringing about changes in the workplace?
 - a. 1 – Values
 - b. 2 – Choice
 - c. 4 – Purpose
 - d. 5 – Self Knowledge and Alignment
2. Which of the following were the reasons for the improvement of the performance within the company?
 - a. Amenities becoming more accessible
 - b. Exchange of ideas
 - c. Interaction of Art and Technology
 - d. Making the workspace less convenient
3. What is the most important factor in a good team?
 - a. The team having highly skilled members
 - b. The team having a variety of talents
 - c. Team members working together and understanding each other
 - d. Members being loyal to their leader
4. Would you say that the success of the Rolling Stones means that all the members of the band would succeed in the same manner individually?
 - a. Yes, the success of a team always means that the members would have succeeded individually too.

- b. Yes, because a team is only the sum of its members.
- c. No, they needed and complemented each other's talents resulting to the band's success.
- d. No, because Mick Jagger was the person responsible for the band's success.

5. Which SDG(s) was conveyed through Ellen Pao's actions?

- a. Good Health and Well Being
- b. Gender Equality
- c. Reduced Inequalities
- d. Decent Work and Economic Growth

6. Which GVV do you think Ellen Pao lacked?

- a. 4 - Define your personal and professional purpose explicitly and broadly before conflicts arise, and appeal to this sense of purpose in others.
- b. 5 - Self-knowledge and alignment means to voice and act on your values in a way that is consistent with who you are and builds on your strengths.
- c. 6 - You are more likely to say words that you've pre-scripted for yourself, and more likely to "voice" your values, with scripting and practice.
- d. 7 - By anticipating the typical reasons & rationalizations given for ethically questionable behavior, you are able to identify and prepare well-reasoned responses.

7. How did Ellen Pao react to losing the lawsuit against the company?

- a. She urged other people facing discrimination to revolt and voice their concerns out loud.
 - b. She urged companies to reform and listen to people raising concerns.
 - c. She hoped that the people would have a better understanding about the real life situation of discrimination.
 - d. She went on to the media to voice her allegations towards the company.
8. The story is a part of the Panchatantra tales. What does this story tell you about the upheld values in the society at that time?
- a. The society was much more progressive in terms of values in all aspects
 - b. While personal values were progressive, the society indulged in various forms of institutional discrimination
 - c. It was a very backward society with no concept of values
 - d. The society was based on reason and logic only
9. What could be understood to have been the most important value in that society?
- a. Staying true to one's word
 - b. Staying Brave at times of distress
 - c. Acquiring material resources
 - d. Being a leader of the people

10. You have two friends in school, Diljeet and Sumant. You and Diljeet get lunch money from home every day, and eat from the canteen during recess. Sumant's family is not economically very sound, and he gets a packed tiffin from home for lunch. One day, Diljeet forgets to get his lunch money, and Sumant couldn't get his tiffin. You have some extra money with you. What would you do?
- a. Divide your money between yourself and Sumant, because he is financially not very privileged and you want him to have a good meal.
 - b. Divide your money between yourself and Diljeet, because he has a habit of eating from the canteen every day, and Sumant can manage because he must face situations like this more frequently.
 - c. Spend your money on yourself, and let them face the consequences of forgetting their lunch and the money.
 - d. Divide the money among all three of you, and have whatever you can for the money and share it among everyone.